AN OVERVIEW

The Next Generation Leader programme is a structured leadership development intervention designed to equip emerging and future leaders with the competencies required to lead effectively in today's dynamic, fast-evolving business and social environment. This 2-day intensive programme is designed to address the following identified competency gaps:

- Limited leadership readiness among emerging leaders
- Inconsistent decision-making and problem-solving capabilities
- Weak communication and stakeholder influence skills
- Low resilience and adaptability in high-pressure environments
- Insufficient leadership pipeline development

Participants will gain practical tools, behavioural insights, and applied leadership frameworks to enhance performance, accountability, and organisational impact. The programme emphasises practical application over theory, ensuring that learning outcomes translate directly into workplace leadership behaviours.

DURATION: 2 Days

WHO SHOULD ATTEND:

This programme is suitable for:

- Emerging leaders and high-potential talents
- Junior executives, supervisors, and team leaders
- Youth and young professionals (16–35 years old)
- Student leaders and youth organisations
- NGO, community, and social impact leaders
- Entrepreneurs and startup founders
- Employees identified for leadership pipeline development
